

It is time think snow and plan your ski vacation. Colorado has been rated a top destination. Many top ski resorts are located here. Vail Resort has 4 Colorado Resort areas: Vail, Beaver Creek, Breckenridge and Keystone.

Vail is recognized as one of the top ski resorts in the world. It has the most skiable terrain of any ski area in the US. It is famous for Back Bowls spanning 8 miles across the backside of Vail Mountain.

The town of Vail has been undergoing a transformation. The Lions Head Base area is home to the new Arrabelle Vail Square, a hotel offering the highest level of luxury accommodations. Another new addition to Vail lodging is the Vail Plaza Hotel and Club, inspired by the Grand hotels of the Italian Alps. It is centrally located in Vail Village, surrounded by the pedestrian area with boutiques, restaurants, galleries and après-ski beacons.

Beaver Creek is just 8 miles west of Vail. It is a little smaller and more refined. It is a haven for families, where every amenity and convenience is thoughtfully considered. This year Beaver Creek has introduced a revolutionary style of teaching kids to turn at The Ranch, a state of the art children's ski and snowboard school. The Ranch is a 4000 square foot on mountain center located at the top of kid's Buckaroo Express Gondola, where customized slopes are designed to facilitate correct body movements throughout each turn.

Just over Vail Pass are two other Vail Resorts; Breckenridge and Keystone. Breckenridge is a throwback to the days of mining; where Main Street is a row of Victorian style buildings, shops, homes and restaurants. The resort celebrates its 150th Anniversary in 2009. It rivals Vail for the most popular ski resort in the US, heralding the most skier days. Breckenridge is opening new base area at Peak 7, featuring high end lodging, a new ski school, ticket office and equipment rental.

Keystone differs from Breckenridge in that it is a totally contained resort with lodging, dining, skier services and activities owned and operated by the resort. There is a taste of adventure for all levels. Last season it opened the expert only Independence Bowl. Night skiing is offered at Keystone via the River Run Gondola. The gondola has been upgraded to serve eight passengers, and is also used to access mountain dining/.

There are many other ski resorts in Colorado, this is just a tip of the iceberg, not mention Utah, California, Canada, Italy, Switzerland.
